Wow Says One Health Sharing Member

Now that tax reform has passed you won't get penalized if you go without coverage. But that doesn't mean the cost of coverage is any less outrageous. So, you might consider joining a health sharing group.

I've been reading a few member letters sent to Samaritan Ministries, one of the largest health-sharing groups. One couple wrote, "We have always had health insurance with a large deductible to make it affordable, so we always paid our medical bills because we never met our deductible. This is the first time we can remember getting help paying our medical bills PLUS prayers, notes, and cards of encouragement. Wow!"

So, check out our website, cchfreedom.org, for the six health sharing groups.
