It's Time to Take the Vote

The U.S. Senate returns today from its Independence Day recess. Ten days ago, with Senate plans in disarray, President Trump tweeted, "If Republican Senators are unable to pass what they are working on now, they should immediately REPEAL, and then REPLACE at a later date."

Trump is not only making sense, he's calling on Republicans to uphold their commitment to repeal Obamacare. A straight-up repeal would stop all quibbling over details and focus attention on real repeal. The GOP-controlled Senate should put up a two-page repeal bill and start the vote. Until they do, until they force the issue, no one knows how the vote will go. It's time to take the vote.
