Support the Freedom to Choose Your Pharmacy

The Trump administration is making huge strides back to freedom. It has proposed to allow Medicare patients to access medications at the pharmacy of their choice.

Pharmacy Benefit Management companies are unhappy. These PBMs, which restrict patient access to medications, say the proposal puts preferred pharmacy plans at risk. But government shouldn't be limiting patients to someone else's idea of a "preferred pharmacy."

Send a statement of support for this proposed regulatory change. The link to comment is on our home page. Go to cchfreedom.org and click on today's Health Freedom Minute. That's cchfreedom.org. The deadline is January 16, 2018. Do it now, so you don't forget!

Sample Comment: "I support the proposed freedom to use whatever pharmacy patients want to use to obtain their medications. Patients shouldn't be limited to an outsider's list of preferred pharmacies. Thank you for proposing to restore patient freedom, pharmacy freedom and competition to medication purchases."

(NOTE: Please personalize your comment with an extra statement or two on why you support this proposal so it's counted as an individual's comment not lumped together as a "standardized" group comment)
