What is Real Insurance?

Health insurance is not supposed to pay your medical bills except in a disaster. But because it does, we're in trouble.

Do you remember when insurers paid YOU and you paid the doctor and hospital? The indemnity health insurance company didn't get in the middle of medical decisions. It didn't create networks of doctors or narrow them. It didn't issue treatment directives. It didn't hire four-year graduates to tell your doctors what they can and cannot do. It didn't build marble edifices using your premium dollars.

And because insurance didn't do these things, it used to be affordable. Don't you want to go back to real health insurance? Obamacare prohibits affordable indemnity plans. Let's repeal Obamacare.
