November 1, 2012

Repealing Obamacare Could be Easy

Former Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle laid out exactly how a President Romney could repeal Obamacare. As reported by Avik Roy at Forbes, Daschle says, “the bulk of it can be dismantled.” Romney could do three things:

First, he could pass legislation using reconciliation which would eliminate 40-60 percent of it. Second, he could impact rulemaking because the law heavily depends on the president and the HHS secretary. In short, he could rescind the 13,000 pages of rules. And third, he could defund it. He could eliminate all funding for it from his budget.

Daschle said, “So he could have a profound effect on the outcomes of the ACA in a very short period of time.” Now isn’t that good news??