Desperately Seeking Sign-Ups

Getting people to sign up for Obamacare during the second enrollment period may be difficult. And because Obama moved the start time from October 15 to November 15 to try to avoid election repercussions, people will only have one month to get coverage or risk being uninsured in January and later penalized.

Taxpayer money is pouring into signing people up. Nevada is sending letters to 35,000 people and Massachusetts will contact 400,000 to try to get them to renew. Enroll America is recruiting 1,000 organizations to sign people up. If Obamacare is such a good product, why all the desperate spending of dollars? Because it’s not a good product.
