Back to the Mission of Medicine Under Fire

The mission of Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom is to support patient and doctor freedom, medical innovation and the right of citizens to a confidential patient-doctor relationship. At last year’s fundraising event, I told our supporters that we will begin to focus on moving the country back to the patient-centered mission of medicine and away from the business of health care.

Paperwork, pay-for-performance and government treatment protocols threaten patient lives. As one doctor recently told me about treatment options, “If it’s not on the computer, I can’t do it.” Doctors are becoming employees of health plans and hospital systems that tell doctors what they can do. This inserts a dangerous conflict of interest into patient care.
