Wrongful Ask for Private Patient Records

The Minnesota Board of Medical Practice is persecuting Dr. Scott Jensen, a physician currently running as a candidate for governor in Minnesota. The Board is investigating Dr. Jensen for the fifth time in 17 months. He's won every time. This time, the Board claims there's been a litany of complaints against him related to his views on vaccination, ivermectin, natural immunity and more. The Board demands he send them the medical records of the last three to five patients that he's prescribed ivermectin to, or face discipline.

Here's the question: Is this ongoing harassment intended to upset his campaign or to shut down his voice to the thousands that listen nationwide? Now they want private patient records related to a lawful prescription. This must stop.

“Regulators request records for patients prescribed ivermectin by Dr. Jensen,” Kyle Hooten, AlphaNews, January 3, 2021: <https://bit.ly/3Fah2mC>

“If it can happen to me, it can happen to you,” Dr. Scott Jensen, MD, Facebook, December 24, 2021: <https://bit.ly/3JNbm5A>
