Save Your Life. Find an Innovative Doctor.

Pierre Kory, an ICU doctor who's saved many Covid patients using early treatment is critical of today's "standards of care."

As a result of his Covid journey, he writes, "it is now my belief that 'standard of care'... has nothing to do with science." He says "standards of care" in Western medicine is whatever Big Pharma wants, health agencies proclaim, and for which Congress pays.

One of a doctor's core responsibilities, he writes, is to "add knowledge to the practice of medicine." Thus, while in the ICU, he engaged in clinical innovation. This is what every patient wants. Innovative doctors who try to cure your condition or save your life, even if what it takes has never been tried before.
