Find a Doctor Who's Not Burned Out

By the end of 2021, the burnout rate for doctors was nearly 70 percent, with more than 40 percent planning to leave the practice of medicine. How will physician burnout impact you, the patient? Imagine losing half of our doctors, the only ones with medical training. A shortage of nearly 140,000 doctors is expected by 2033, just 10 years from now.

Why? The article discussing these statistics never mentioned doctors being ousted for refusing the job, or burnout related to government reporting requirements, or how government regulations have led to 70 percent of doctors losing their independence.

Find a doctor who's not burned out at JointheWedge.com. JointheWedge.com There you can find an independent doctor.
