Find a Doctor Who Works for You

Once upon a time, there were doctors that owned their own practices, came to your home, and directed your care in the hospital. Then came HMOs, health plans, Obamacare, hospitalists – those doctors in the hospital who don't know you – and the unaffordable government-mandated electronic health record. Today, as a result, at least 70 percent of doctors have become employees of corporate systems. They're no longer free to treat you as they'd like to treat you.

Do you want to find a doctor who knows you, cares about you, and works for you, not the government or a huge, impersonal, corporate system that limits your care and controls your doctor?

If you want a doctor who works for you, go to jointhewedge.com – our online directory of independent practices. That's JointheWedge.com.
