There's a War on Doctors – But You're the Target

There is a war on doctors, but you are the target. In Colorado, the medical license of Dr. Scott Rollins, a family medicine physician, was indefinitely suspended after he was forced to admit to prescribing ivermectin for COVID-19 without informing patients of the drug's risks or discussing the FDA-approved treatments for the disease. He admitted "unprofessional conduct" and must complete a reeducation program.

In Minnesota, the board of medical practice and the Attorney General are coming after Dr. Scott Jensen, trying to take away his license because he too did not follow the narrative. The question you should ask is: how many doctor's licenses should be suspended because they followed dangerous government protocols and failed to properly treat their Covid patients?
