The W.H.O. Schemes for Global Control

The World Health Organization has proposed a global pandemic agreement, a treaty, that would give it undemocratic rights over every participating nation and its citizens. As Dr. Tess Lawrie, a physician, writes, "in the event of a 'pandemic,' the World Health Organization's constitution would replace every country's constitution." The W.H.O. could then "impose lockdowns, testing regimes, enforce medical interventions, dictate all public health practice, and much more."

The W.H.O., which receives most of its funding from American taxpayers, gave the public only five days to respond. On the last day, written comments crashed the W.H.O website. The U.S. must never agree to any such treaty, which would end our constitutional rights and essentially dissolve our nation. It would be the end of freedom.
