The Left Hasn't Let Go

The Left hasn't let go of power over you. They've figured out that all it takes to get Americans to give up their liberty is fear. If you live anywhere but Florida, the shadow of government power lurks. It's not gone. It's merely stepped to the side.

The CDC says be ready to re-mask. Stores still post signs suggesting masks. Some colleges mandate vaccinations. People are still being fired for refusing the job. And people are still walking around with masks in the most ridiculous places.

And in New York City, the Left's power is visible on the faces of every toddler forced to wear a mask. Freedom will be restored when each one of us decide we're never going to submit again. Never. Ever. Never ever, ever.
