Resist Vaccine Coercion — Call Their Bluff

There is a full-court press to force every American to take the Covid-19 injection. A CNN medical analyst says, “It needs to be hard for people to remain unvaccinated.” More companies and schools are now threatening termination. Children are being taught to fear and to blindly obey the government—all bad for a constitutional republic.

There's also a blackout of good news that would quiet fear: early covid treatment. What's going on? Is it a coup? Are they trying to set a dangerous precedent for compulsory vaccination? Or are they afraid acquired immunity will be proven better than the injection? Whatever the real agenda is, if you don't want it, resist. Businesses need workers and colleges need money. Make life hard for them. Call their bluff. Be kind, but do it firmly.

“CNN medical analyst suggests life ‘needs to be hard’ for unvaccinated Americans.” Cortney O'Brien, Fox News, July 10, 2021: <https://fxn.ws/3rhdKsg>
