Government Officials Pose the Greatest Danger to Covid Patients

Despite knowing that those who are fully injected or already infected could get reinfected, Dr. Jha, Biden's COVID-19 response coordinator, wants people to get injected and says America must make sure there are "adequate treatments."

This is true, so why has the Biden administration blocked doctors from saving lives with early treatments like ivermectin? Dr. Jha has called the 300 to 350 deaths a day from Covid unacceptable. But most are actually unnecessary. The fact is, Dr. Jha has refused to push effective medications that keep people from dying. Government officials like Dr. Jha pose the greatest danger to Covid patients.
