Resurrection of the COVID Coup

You want Covid to be over, but it isn't. If you are thinking of it as a virus or a disease that eventually goes away, you're thinking of Covid in the wrong way. While Covid is a virus, likely a manufactured one, Covid is primarily an attempted coup. And those who attempted that coup and got away with it for nearly three years have not gone away.

Some hospitals are re-imposing mask mandates and some colleges are requiring the Covid shot. The Biden administration just awarded $1.4 billion to develop more vaccines and treatment for Covid-19. Don't count on repurposed ivermectin to be part of that research. As attempts to resurrect the Covid coup continue, the only question you have to ask yourself is whether you'll submit.
