Why Did Respiratory Therapist Ignore Early Treatment?

A respiratory therapist wrote about the “7 stages of severe COVID-19.” She says if you don’t get vaccinated “here’s what to expect...for a serious case of COVID-19.” The last stage is death. She claims most of the vaccinated never go beyond stage one, in which they spend several days in the hospital on oxygen before they are sent home.

But there’s a problem. Something very big is missing in her fear-evoking column. She writes as though there’s no way other than vaccination to avoid hospitalization and death. Early treatment is not mentioned. Natural immunity is missing in action, as is the fact that vaccinated people are getting Covid and some are dying. Is she paid to write this, or does she just not know that there is less risky, prophylaxis and early treatment to protect oneself?
