Get Ivermectin While You Can

Doctors are all but forbidden to use safe and effective medication to save your life from Covid-19. They are more likely to send you home where the virus may continue to rapidly replicate to dangerous levels. As someone who experienced covid with her family recently told me about ivermectin, get it now. Don't wait. I'll add that ivermectin is getting harder to get.

Liberal news media are attacking websites that offer early treatment drugs. The FDA is saber-rattling against the drug. Doctors are afraid of losing their license. The price is going up. Don't think you can quickly go online and get it when you need it. It may take too long and be too late. Some doctors say you should start these drugs within four days of your first symptom. Use EarlyTreatmentOptions.org. Your life may depend on quick action today.
