Dr Fauci Claims His Own Mask Science

When CNN questioned Dr. Fauci on masks, he showed how he seems to believe that he himself is science; that his words are truth regardless of what the best research institutions have found. As the famed Cochrane Institute reports, and as Fauci himself said in an email in February 2020, medical and N95 masks do not stop COVID.

Although Fauci says the data on masks are “less strong” when talking about the effect on the pandemic as a whole, he claims that when used by individuals to protect oneself, there are “many studies that show that there is an advantage.” So he claims, but that doesn’t make sense. Masks work for individuals but not for populations? And where are all these studies? Dr. Fauci is not saying.
