Saving Health Care Dollars by Using Cash

Two families in Samaritan Ministries saved thousands of dollars with a little research. Even if you don't have health care sharing, these stories might make you want to use cash instead of your high-deductible coverage.

One woman saved $10,000 on knee surgery by traveling a few hours from her home. She also found a $500 MRI at a small local office within a health care system instead of paying $2,000 to get it at the hospital.

Another family that faced a $60,000 bill for a heart procedure traveled three hours to a facility that discounted their bill to $20,000. These examples show you how health care prices don't have to be as high as the list price and how you can find places with affordable prices.

“Savings by two Samaritan families are examples of using provided tools,”
