Therapist Offers Creative Direct-Pay Model

Bob Muscala is offering a new direct-pay model at the Muscala Chemical Health Clinic in the Twin Cities of Minnesota. Here's how it will work. Level 1 allows patients to come to a free Thursday evening group session, but contributions are accepted. Level 2 costs $1200 per year and allows patients to attend Thursday sessions and call, email and text anytime. Level 3 includes everything I've mentioned plus one to six office meetings for $1500 a year.

Ala carte options (paid in cash or by check at the time of service) include private sessions, home visits, paperwork, and more. This creative practice will avoid costly interference from outsiders. If you want this kind of practice, by him or others, find it at JointheWedge.com.

Presented daily by Twila Brase, President, Citizens' Council for Health Freedom.
