Is Sen. Kamala Harris Clueless on Medicare for All?

U.S. Senator Kamala Harris wants to eliminate private insurance. That's right. Not only could you not keep your health plan; there wouldn't be any health plans anywhere. She calls the current system "inhumane" saying people cannot receive the benefits of medical science if the health plan decides it's not in their profiteering interests.

Her anger at health plans is justified, but perhaps she doesn't understand Congress put them in place to ration care. And what's surprising is how she thinks that Medicare for all would be more compassionate. Does she not know that government programs must ration care? Or in her race to become president is she just refusing to tell the American public the truth?
