Your Doctor is in Danger

Your doctors are in danger. More than 50% are burned out. Less than 25% practice independently. Thirty-three percent of residents are depressed. Four hundred doctors commit suicide each year. Their average medical school debt is nearly $200,000. And more than half of all doctors are planning their exit.

This means you're in danger. Patients need critical thinking, highly skilled, dedicated physicians who help you when you can't help yourself; who know how to care for those with complex conditions. Government regulations, and health plan controls are endangering you and your doctors. Ask your doctor to join The Wedge and then you join too.
