Six Reasons to Opt Out of Medicare

President Trump has signed an executive order requiring two federal agencies to make sure senior citizens can get their Social Security benefits even if they opt out of Medicare.

People have been asking us why they would want to opt out, so on our website, we now have a list of six reasons.

First, seniors may have superior coverage in the private market that they’d like to keep. Second, there may be more choices outside of Medicare. Third, seniors could keep their doctors wherever those doctors are. Fourth, health sharing members could stay in health sharing without losing Social Security benefits. Fifth, seniors can avoid having their care rationed away as Medicare goes bankrupt. And sixth, seniors could continue contributing to their health savings accounts.
