M4A – Appealing for Your Life

We've hit day 10 of Medicare for All. I hope you see what a disaster this would be for patients, doctors, and freedom in America. While the bill lists 14 items and services that will be available, such as hospitalization, prescription drugs, mental health, audiology, etc., the Secretary must evaluate these benefits each year, and items and services that do not meet the Secretary's standards "are not available."

If you don't like these national coverage decisions, you'll be allowed to appeal. This will not be simple. So imagine yourself sick or your life in jeopardy and being forced to plead your case to Washington. Tell your neighbors the truth about Medicare for All.
