June 11, 2020

Some Experts Say COVID-19 is Ending

Because U.S. officials are making lockdown decisions based on entrenched government bureaucrats, check out the interviews of experts on the website UnHerd.

Sunetra Gupta, PROFESSOR of Theoretical Epidemiology at Oxford in England says people may have immunities that don’t show up in antibody tests, 50% of the population is probably already infected, and the epidemic is largely on its way out of England.

She also says, “In almost every context we’ve seen the epidemic grow, turn around and die away—almost like clockwork” regardless of the lockdown policies. She says deaths are the only reliable measure and cases shouldn’t even be reported since they depend on how much testing is done. Finally, she recommends “a more rapid exit for lockdown.” Is anyone listening to her in the U.S.?