The Powerful Collude to Impose Masks

For many of you, your nose and mouth are locked behind a piece of material with no ability to breathe or speak freely. How did this happen?

Consider it a collusion of the powerful. Big Government and Big Business came together in a public-private partnership to mask the masses. Government did it to control and fearmonger. Businesses did it to make sure you couldn't vote with your feet and go to a mask-free competitor.

Big business support for the mandate was brought up repeatedly by Minnesota's governor when he announced the masking mandate. The voice of freedom was not in the room. Thus, the most common mask mandates nationwide are on employers, employees, and customers. You can thank big businesses, like Apple, Walmart, CVS, Menards, Panera, Starbucks, Costco and others who chose to put you under a mask.
