Look Closer at Attack on U.S. Capitol

Attackers at the U.S. Capitol came prepared with tools of destruction, writes Dan Pilla in WND. It wasn't a spontaneous attack.

What did the attack stop, he asks. It stopped the objections that Republican senators were making about the certification process due to election fraud concerns. He doubts President Trump or his supporters would have done anything to stop that process. Instead, the attack led to a quick certification of Joe Biden as president. Whose interests did that serve? Look closely and think about what you saw and heard.

Freedom doesn't exist without law and order. Once upon a time, anyone could walk through the White House door hoping to bump into the president. Once upon a time, Americans of every class and creed believed in law and order.
