The Real Danger of COVID-19

The real danger of COVID-19 may be the shift of control. In a fascinating video called “The New Normal,” Tony Blair, former Prime Minister of England, says the COVID crisis rationalizes digital IDs. Robert F. Kennedy Jr., says switching us to digital currency is the beginning of slavery. He calls the pandemic “a crisis of convenience for the elite” who are using the policies to “obliterate the middle class” and destroy democracy.

English prime minister Boris Johnson warns of digitized smart cities with round-the clock surveillance. And a Jewish history professor asks, “What will happen to politics in your country in 20 years when somebody in... Beijing knows the entire medical and personal history of every politician and journalist?”
