Banning Access to Hydroxychloroquine is Criminal

Never before have governors and state medical and pharmacy boards prohibited doctors from using an FDA-approved drug. But around the nation, many doctors are not allowed to prescribe HCQ, hydroxychloroquine, and many pharmacists refuse to dispense it.

Studies show HCQ, in combination with zinc and zithromax has saved lives. There are 53 studies that show positive effects from HCQ. Yale Professor Harvey Risch says tens of thousands of people are dying unnecessarily due to the government and news media's massive disinformation campaign. He says the science for treating with HCQ is stronger than anything else he's studied in his career. I say banning patient access to the cure for COVID-19 is simply criminal.
