Call Now—Oppose National Patient-Tracking Number

I’ve just heard from the Senate. The decision about whether to ban or impose a federally-issued national patient-tracking number is going to be made in the next few weeks, before they leave on December 13th.

So time is short, and members of the U.S. Senate need to hear from you. A national patient-tracking number, a national number that you need to get access to care, a national number that ties all your medical records together is exactly how we’ll end up with a national health care system.

So do not hesitate. Pick up the phone and call your U.S. Senators. Tell them to stop the national patient tracking number. Tell them to stop the National Patient ID.
