Send President Trump a Note of Thanks

It’s past Christmas, but let’s talk about gifts from the Trump administration.

First, President Trump signed an executive order on Inauguration Day ordering his administration to reduce the burdens of Obamacare. Second, Trump never stopped talking about repealing Obamacare, which led Congress to pass a bill zeroing out the penalty for not being covered. Although the mandate and penalty are still the law of the land, while the penalty is zero, people can make coverage choices without fear of the IRS.

Third, the administration has a new Patients over Paperwork initiative to reduce burdens on physicians and other practitioners. A boatload of regulatory changes have already been made. Please send President Trump a note of thanks!
