Idaho Bucks Obamacare Law

Idaho is leading the way back to affordable health insurance. Its Department of Commerce is asking health insurers to sell affordable policies that do not comply with the Affordable Care Act, although they must sell one policy that does. Some doubt this is legal, however, the ACA is unconstitutional; a violation of Idaho’s 10th Amendment rights.

Idaho would allow insurers to offer policies that deny coverage for uninsurable (pre-existing) conditions for up to 12 months, unless the person had maintained continuous coverage. Maternity care could be excluded in all but one policy and insurers could charge people based on age, location and health history. Three cheers for Idaho!
