High Cost of Sex Change Operations

According to CNBC, insurance covered 61 percent of hospital sex-change operations between 2014 and 2016.

Medicaid now offers sex-change coverage in 17 states and D.C. Medicare has covered sex change operations for seniors since 2014. The Affordable Care Act prohibits sex discrimination which the Obama administration interpreted as allowing transgenderism.

These surgeries are expensive. Feminizing a face costs as much as $70,000 and masculinizing a chest costs $10,000 or more. CNBC doesn’t say how much these costs have increased the cost of health insurance.
