May 1, 2018

MAYDAY! MAYDAY!
The “Kidnapping” of Alfie Evans

The parents of 20-month old Alfie Evans, who has a genetic disease, have been fighting for his life against the British health care system that says it’s wrong, unkind even, to keep him alive. He may have died by the time you hear this.

England’s National Health Service and British courts have decided: Alfie’s life is not worth living, Alfie’s parents may not take him to a country that thinks Alfie’s life is worth living, life support must be removed against the parent’s wishes, and Alfie’s parents may not take him out of the hospital. His parents are crying “Mayday, Mayday,” but no rescue will be allowed. This is where America is headed under Medicare, Obamacare and managed care.

“Latest: Alfie Evans’ Father Calls on Supporters to ‘Stand Down’ and Says Plan Will be Agreed to Provider ‘Dignity and Comfort.’” Natalie Evans, Rachel Bishop and Sophie Evans, Mirror, April 27, 2018: https://www.mirror.co.uk/news/uk-news/live-updates-toddlers-alfie-evans-12416526

Presented daily by Twila Brase, President, Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom.