Tell me what you like or any topic you’d like to hear more about. What’s most valuable? Why do you listen? What’s been the biggest surprise? My goal is health freedom. I hope this short program gives you sufficient insight into the complex topic of health care so that wherever you are, your information can be used to dispel myths and advance truths that move us closer to freedom each day. Thank you for listening! And do let me know what you think.
