Two Repeals Would Shift Trajectory

Last week, POLITICO said the U.S. Senate is hoping to vote on the Senate repeal and replace bill by Friday, June 30, before they all leave for the July 4th recess. The Senate plans to get a fiscal read on the bill from the Congressional Budget Office before letting the public see it. But news out of Washington says conservative Senators are planning to vote no.

We’re in D.C. having meetings with major players in hopes of shifting the trajectory back to freedom. Use the Capitol Switchboard to call your senators today. Tell them to repeal all Obamacare taxes—and the prohibition on catastrophic coverage. All by itself, these two repeals would greatly shift health care away from Obamacare and back to freedom.
