The Real Reason Your Doctor Pushes Flu Vaccine

Your doctor wants to give you the flu vaccine, but knowing how ineffective it can be, you refuse. That’s when the pressure begins. Some people say doctors and nurses wore them down until they agreed to be vaccinated.

This unethical pressure results from the government telling doctors how to practice. The government gives the clinic a quality score based on the percentage of vaccinated adults and children, and that score determines financial bonuses or penalties, even though the flu vaccine has nothing to do with quality. And even though the best quality of care may be to recommend against the vaccine. The most powerful word in the English vocabulary is “no.” Use it as often as necessary.
