With McCain Gone, Will Congress Try to Repeal ACA?

Many people have blamed Senator John McCain for stopping the repeal of Obamacare. And now with McCain’s passing, some ask if Congress will try again to repeal the law. Many Americans might even nod their heads in support. However, this is essentially a fake discussion.

Senator John McCain did not stop Congress from repealing Obamacare. To keep funding for Planned Parenthood intact, Senator McCain kept Congress from a passing a so-called “skinny repeal” which would have left most of Obamacare in law. But it would have convinced Americans that Obamacare was repealed, and taken all pressure off actual repeal. So whatever happens next, consider checking whether it’s a real repeal or another fake repeal.
