Canadian Hospitals Target Children for Termination

A disturbing story comes out of Canada. The Toronto Hospital for Sick Children has unveiled a new plan to allow children to kill themselves by assisted suicide, with or without parental consent. Capable minors could potentially be allowed to die and parents would not be informed until after the event, reports The Daily Signal. This could include both the terminally ill and others.

The Canadian legislature is now determining where to draw the line in Canada, which has already legalized physician-assisted suicide. People with mental illness, however loosely defined, could be allowed to take their own lives with the help of a physician. In the US, Hawaii is now the sixth state to legalize physician-assisted suicide.
