A Time for Choosing Rightly

It’s a time for choosing. What you want is for your representatives in Congress to make the right choices. They shouldn’t make choices based on political affiliation. They shouldn’t make choices to get re-elected. They shouldn’t make choices based on what the news media says. They shouldn’t make choices based on their donors. They shouldn’t make choices based on their own positions and preferences.

They should make choices based on their oath or affirmation of office, the limits set by the U.S. Constitution, the prohibition against unlawful searches and seizures, and 10th Amendment state and individual rights. When it comes to Obamacare and the government slowdown, when will Congress make the right choices?

Presented daily by Twila Brase, President, Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom.
