Repeal the LARGEST-EVER Tax Increase

The U.S. House has passed a tax bill that does not include a repeal of the ACA’s individual mandate, even though this mandate has been called the largest tax increase on Americans.

As Merrill Matthews discussed in Forbes, the mandate has two parts, the requirement to have coverage and the Obamacare penalty tax. Even liberals know it’s a tax. ABC’s George Stephanopoulos once challenged President Obama asking, “Under this mandate, the government is forcing people to spend money, fining you if you don’t. How is that not a tax?” It is, and now’s the time to end it. Tell the U.S. Senate its tax reform bill should repeal the ACA’s individual mandate.
