Obamacare’s Federal Critic

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase, president of Citizens' Council for Health Freedom.

In the nearly two years since Obamacare became law, a lot has been said, more than 30 lawsuits have been filed, one section has been repealed and one section has been dropped.

As a reminder of the trouble we’re in, here is what Rick Foster, the Chief Actuary of Medicare said in a report a month after Obamacare became law.

He said health care costs will increase, not decrease. He said the program for people with preexisting conditions will run out of money. He said there will be shortages of care, many new Medicaid recipients won’t be able to find a doctor, and higher taxes will lead to higher premiums. Gotta love an honest agent.
