Republicans Won but Will They Act?

Republicans won the election in droves. President Obama said his policies were on the ballot and the American people said we don’t want them. The U.S. Senate turned Republican. The U.S. House has more Republicans than 60 years ago when Harry Truman was president. Republicans captured governorships nationwide. And in Minnesota, Nevada and West Virginia, one chamber turned GOP.

But Kevin McCarthy, Majority Leader of the U.S. House, tells Fox News that he won’t move to repeal Obamacare until he has an alternative. How long might that take? Obamacare is constitutional and Republican leadership says they’ll wait to repeal it? This is why Americans don’t trust Congress.
