MSNBC isn't Happy

MSNBC is casting aspersions on President-elect Donald Trump's choice for Secretary of Health and Human Services. GOP Congressman and physician Tom Price is a member of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons or AAPS and MSNBC doesn’t like it.

AAPS has filed successful lawsuits to protect freedom. It took the Clinton administration to the Supreme Court to get HillaryCare task force documents and won. I’ve been invited to give several speeches at AAPS meetings and met wonderful physicians. AAPS supports freedom, the U.S. Constitution, patient privacy, and a trusted patient-physician relationship – exactly what the doctor ordered for health care in America.

“The curious company Trump’s HHS Secretary keeps,” Steve Benen, MSNBC, December 1, 2016.

Presented daily by Twila Brase, President, Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom.
