Democrats Get Desperate

Democrats passed Obamacare, but how do they get states to cooperate? U.S. Senator Mary Landrieu from Louisiana sent Louisiana’s governor, Bobby Jindal, a long letter. She asked him to expand Medicaid, adopt the fed’s costly list of insurance benefits, and install the Obamacare exchange – the takeover center. Jindal has said No.

She says Obamacare is law so why is she writing this letter? What’s the deal? Well, you see, states don’t have to do any of it and I think Democrats are getting desperate. They see the possibility of failure. She even challenges his leadership because he refuses. Au contraire. Governor Jindal is the leader. Senator Landrieu is just following Obama’s orders.
