Obamacare is NOT Repealed

Here’s what happened to Obamacare in the tax bill. First, although President Trump said “Obamacare has been repealed in this bill,” that’s not true.

The Affordable Care Act is a 2700-page law and the tax bill repealed none of it. Second, the mandate to be covered and the penalty are still in the law. Only the penalty amount changed. The penalty is now zero dollars or zero percent of your income. Third, the penalty does not become zero until 2019, so coverage decisions for 2017 and 2018 are still subject to the penalty.

Given that the ACA is still the law of the land, let’s keep Congress’s feet to the fire.
