Democrats Knew Plans Would be Cancelled

Democrats in Congress knew that health plans would be cancelled. New York Senator Kristen Gillibrand says, “We all knew.”

Asked on ABC, “Do you feel misled by Obama?”, she said, “He should have just been more specific.” She also said certain health plans that people are losing “should never be offered.” Asked again if she felt misled, Gillibrand said, “He should have just been specific. No, we all knew. The whole point of the plan is to cover things people need, like preventive care, birth control, pregnancy.”

Gillibrand is talking national health care, not insurance. And do not miss how comfortable she is telling you what you must do.
