Beware Obamacare Auto Enrollment

Tomorrow I’ll discuss the three legal alternatives to Obamacare enrollment. But first, let me send out a warning.

Obamacare coverage ends on Dec 31 unless people re-enroll. Obama can’t afford to lose the 7 million enrollees, so on December 15, everyone with Obamacare who hasn’t re-enrolled will be automatically re-enrolled. This could spell disaster. The premiums and the subsidies have changed for many of the plans, and enrollees could end up with higher costs and inaccurate subsidies leading to the IRS clawback I warned about last week.

I’m asking you to stay out of Obamacare – to refuse to enroll – but whatever you do, don’t let yourself be automatically re-enrolled.

FROM POLITICO: “The insurance industry is focusing first on the 7 million who need to reenroll. People who don’t take steps to reenroll — or to specifically opt out — by Dec. 15 will get automatically reenrolled. But they can often get a better deal — and a more accurate subsidy — if they update their information and shop around.” – PoliticoPro, November 12, 2014 (subscription required)
